The Workforce

Though public sector employment can be found in many industries, the majority takes place in three sectors: public administration, education, and health care and social assistance. Public Administration includes policing, firefighting, the military and a wide variety of administrative positions. A large majority of educational services are publicly operated, employing 31% of the public sector in 2009. Publicly operated health care and social services employ 23% of the public workforce. (Nearly as much health care employment is operated privately, though a large share of it is publicly funded). While Ontario's public sector employment has increased by 30% in the past ten years, the composition has changed little.

Major Public Sectors Employment Forecast

Ontario 2010 to 2020

Outlook

With the global recession of the past two years, the provincial government moved quickly to restrain its spending and froze the size of the provincially operated workforce, with a commitment to reduce it by five per cent by March 31, 2012. This will be achieved through attrition and other measures, while there is no proposal for mandatory lay-offs.

In the anticipated recovery and years following, the wider public sector at all levels of government is expected to continue creating new jobs, with most being in healthcare and education. Health care and social services are forecasted to grow by 45% for a net gain of 315,000 jobs by 2020. Education is forecasted to grow by 41% for a net gain of 200,000, while public administration at all levels is anticipated to grow by 13% for a total of 45,000 jobs.
